Now we have a set of questions concerning various public figures. We want to see how much information about them gets out to the public from television, newspapers and the like. If you don't know, just give your best guess.

Do you happen to recall what job or political office Boris Johnson now holds?

pol_11

Do you happen to recall what job or political office John Roberts now holds?

For the next few questions, we'd like to hear how you feel about some political leaders and groups using something we call a feeling thermometer. Ratings between 50° and 100° mean that you feel favorable and warm toward the person or the group of people. Ratings between 0° and 50° mean that you don't feel favorable toward the person or group of people and that you don't care too much for them. You would rate the person or group of people at the 50° mark if you don't feel particularly warm or cold toward them.

Next, you will be asked to make choices about whether to play or not play risky games. If you choose to play a game, you receive one amount of money if a tossed coin comes up heads and a different amount if it comes up tails. If you do not play the game, you do not win nor lose any money.

For example, look at game #1. If you play the game, you lose $2 if the coin comes up heads and you win $6 if it comes up tails. You will not earn or lose real money for your choices, but please choose carefully as if real money were at stake.

Please look at each game below and mark "Yes" if you would choose to play the game, and "No" if you would not.

	Yes (1)	No (0)
